Abstract

Campuses 110 and 119 are the most basic student organizations in the organization of the school's armed security department (division) to investigate hidden safety hazards, and are also a type of work-study jobs provided by the school; the teacher in charge can only guarantee school resources if the team management and construction are done well. Only by maximizing and using high quality can the full team's functional effects be fully utilized to effectively investigate and eliminate hidden dangers of campus safety accidents; meanwhile, it also means the orderly, high-quality and efficient promotion of student management. The management of the 110 and 119 team middle school students on campus requires the participation of relevant personnel in the institution, and the backbone of the team of middle school students is the most effective component among them. Building a high-quality student backbone team can provide an important part for the overall construction and management of the team help.

1. Introduction

The student team focuses on construction and management. Only by building a student team that advances with the times, is pioneering and enterprising, has strict discipline, and has both academic and academic excellence, can it meet the relevant requirements for student management under the new situation and can better study. Carry out the spirit of the 19th National Congress of the Party and Xi Jinping's socialist thinking with Chinese characteristics in the new era, widely promote the core values of socialism, and actively respond to General Secretary Xi Jinping's four requirements for contemporary college students: "patriotic, inspirational, truth-seeking and practical"; in the new situation The construction of student teams in colleges and universities should also change the way of thinking, change the mechanism, and actively build a "three heart, four energy and five compound" high-quality application-oriented student team to meet the needs of the development and reform of the new situation of modern education.

2. Improve the Fundamental Target System

The first thing that should be considered in the construction of college student teams is the fundamental question of what kind of student team to build. It directly determines the direction and goal of this team building. The overall goal of university student team building is a compound student team with high political performance, advanced thinking, excellent academic performance, strong ability, dedication, hard work, orderly and mature organization with high execution power and "combat power". This target system stems from the comprehensive quality requirements of the supervisor teacher, and involves the supervisor teacher's business ability, ideological and moral quality and personal comprehensive ability; based on the ideological and political qualities of the student team, personal ability, subjective work attitude and team organization A series of organic complexes such as structure. As long as the above-mentioned goals can be achieved, the team will surely be built into a high-quality composite application team under the new situation[1].

3. Ideological and Political Education Is the Soul of Student Team Building

Xi Jinping, general secretary of the CPC Central Committee, State President, and Chairman of the Central Military Commission, emphasized at the National University Ideological and Political Work Conference that ideological and political work in colleges and universities relates to the fundamental question of what kind of people are trained in universities, how to train people, and for whom. It is necessary to insist on establishing morality as the central link, to carry out ideological and political work throughout the entire process of education and teaching, to realize the whole process of educating people and educating people in an all-round way, and strive to create a new situation in the development of my country's higher education. The 110 and 119 teams of the campus are affiliated with the school's armed security department (office), and are responsible for the investigation of hidden safety hazards on the campus, daily inspections of the campus, and inspection of fire-fighting equipment, which are related to the development of the school's safety work. Therefore, only by building a team that is strong in ideology can we perform our duties seriously, perform our duties efficiently, and give full play to the team's overall efficiency. Ideological education is the soul of the entire team. Only under the guidance of the correct ideology can the correct path be taken.

3.1. The Teacher in Charge Is the Leader of the Team's Ideological Education

The 110 and 119 teams on campus belong to student organizations. With the deepening of globalization, a variety of values and cultural thoughts have poured in, impacting the thinking of college students, and strengthening the ideological and political education of college students will help improve the ideological and political education of college students Quality and ideological and moral quality. As the supervisor teacher's own ideological and moral qualities will directly affect the overall ideological and moral direction of the team, and directly link the "combat power" of the entire team, so the supervisor teacher must grasp the characteristics of the impact of the network multimedia development boom on student thinking in the new situation, and use each The online media in the school provides socialist, patriotic, and collectivist education to the students in the team, cultivates the spirit of treating the students down to earth and seeking truth from facts, and by carrying out ideological and political education, the students in the team can be positive, hardworking, and strict With self-discipline concepts and thoughts, the team and even the department are purified, and the team strength is effectively improved.

3.2. The Backbone of the Team Is the Backbone of Ideological and Political Education

The 110 and 119 teams on campus are a group of students, and the backbone of the team is the link between teachers and students. They serve as a bridge to upload and release. They are a two-way intermediate, which can not only convey the thought of the supervisor teacher but also reflect the overall thought dynamics and special circumstances of the team to the supervisor teacher, so the training of the team backbone is particularly important. The selection must be strict and conscientious, such as actively recruiting retired college soldiers as the backbone of the team, they have received ideological and political education in the military system, have a relatively correct and perfect ideological and political understanding, and have a clear advantage in execution and responsibility And have a certain leadership and management skills, can effectively play the role of succession and succession. At the same time, they return to school and return to school. As a senior, they can communicate with students better and play a very good role in passing on.

4. The Construction of Style and Discipline Is the "Tight Spell" of the Student Team

Since the Eighteenth National Congress of the Communist Party of China, General Secretary Xi Jinping emphasized in the "Excerpts on the Discipline and Rules of the Strict Party" that "the party must manage and strictly govern the party." For the construction of the student team, it is a good direction to guide, there are no rules, and it is not a circle. Under the constant impact of today's various thoughts, the "disobedience" of some student discipline positions leads to the emergence of some student officials, which greatly affects the purity of the entire team building and corrupts the school atmosphere; the discipline construction of contemporary college student teams is particularly important and prominent. In the war years, the older generation of soldiers relied on the "three disciplines and eight attentions" to defeat the aggressors, overthrow the reactionaries, and build the great prosperous and powerful motherland. This is the potential driving force of discipline. For the student team, the red line of "discipline is an iron, who touches and bleeds" should be strictly established. Strengthening the team's style and discipline is the driving force behind the team's "combat power."

4.1. Establish and Improve the Supervision and Evaluation of the Entire Team

Generally speaking, students' work enthusiasm and enthusiasm are relatively high, and they are willing to do their jobs well. However, it is inevitable that some problems will inevitably arise when they are exposed to work for the first time. The establishment of a sound assessment and supervision mechanism is an important way to prevent the disintegration of discipline; The content should cover the following aspects: First, it is necessary to establish an on-duty evaluation system, and to conduct regular inspections on the discipline, effectiveness, and efficiency of personnel on duty. Check the absence of duty, staff duty status, work efficiency, etc. The second is to evaluate the duty status of major activities and the participation of various activities and tasks. The third is to examine the organization, discipline and execution of the student team. The fourth is to randomly check the organization of the work carried out by the team, the personnel arrangement and the effect of completing the task. Fifth, it is necessary to establish a reward and punishment mechanism, combining the assessment results with the team members' appraisal and promotion, promotion and promotion; only the multi-disciplinary examination of the reward and punishment mechanism, organizational ability, execution ability, business level, etc. can ensure the team's discipline is not loose, and the students are fully mobilized. The enthusiasm of the team enhances the team's "combat power" level[2-3].

4.2. Strengthen the Work Guidance to the Backbone Team to Prevent the Emergence of "Student Officials"

The backbone team is the core backbone of the entire team and bears more important responsibilities. The primary responsibility of the backbone is to play a role as a model leader and to serve as a hub for the gang. Each backbone should possess a spirit of dedication, and establish a thought of serving students. It should be fair, open, just, and selfless. Treat every student with due diligence, and only in this way can the credibility of the team be formed and facilitate the implementation of future work. However, in the real working life, the student organizations of some colleges and universities have the bad influence of "student officials" in power and prestige. In order to carry out work, privately engage in class relations and help gang formation, which directly leads to a serious decline in the work of the team. The serious decline in quality is also a serious corrosion to their own team. This completely deviates from the original intention of team building. Therefore, when selecting and appointing key personnel, we must inspect and establish a more rigorous evaluation mechanism to form a harmonious work situation under the above rate. Instructors and department leaders should pay more attention to team development at all times, examine backbones from time to time and emphasize team discipline, and resolutely put an end to the emergence of "student officers."

5. Backbone Business Level Construction Is the Focus of Team Building

The duties and responsibilities of campus 110 and 119 are to investigate hidden fire hazards in the campus, inspect the campus to prevent security accidents, and actively report and handle the hidden security hazards to minimize the damage caused by campus security issues. Theory is the vanguard of practice, and the quality of the team's business depends largely on the level of the theory; this requires the entire team to have certain safety knowledge, fire fighting knowledge, observation ability, and ability to deal with situations. However, the team as a whole is a college student. The lack of knowledge in this area directly leads to the weak "combat power" of the entire team, which makes the construction of the backbone business level urgent. How to strengthen the professional ability of the backbone and team members can be implemented from the following aspects[4]:

5.1. Strengthen the Study of Relevant Professional Theoretical Knowledge and Carry Out Theoretical Training Regularly

As a student organization under the Ministry of Armed Security, it can be taught by the Fire Department and the Security Department. Departments should make full use of the opportunity to carry out activities, go to the fire brigade to visit and learn and the opportunity of the initial selection and training, and organize team members to carry out systematic, professional and targeted business knowledge learning; In view of the characteristics of rapid replacement of old and new students and greater mobility, the theoretical training should be adhered to for a long time, institutionalized and normalized, and gradually standardized, scientific and normalized. The training content should be targeted, hierarchical, systematic and practical, so as to make the learning useful. Training methods should also be flexible and diversified, such as teaching faithfully, visiting and learning, knowledge competition, etc. Fully reflects the interest, high efficiency.

5.2. Carry Out Practical Learning Operation Drills, Link Theory With Practice

Make full use of the relevant professional equipment of the school, carry out field operation learning and observation in combination with the special activities of fire protection, or practice teaching of the actual use of related fire equipment to improve the ability of backbone business level. The backbone preparation can be composed of retired soldiers from colleges and universities, preferably retired soldiers from the fire department. They have received professional systematic training, can familiarize themselves with business knowledge, and play the role of helping the transfer. At the same time, as the backbone of the team, it can also play a leading role in modelling, greatly stimulating the promotion of the team's business level. At the same time, it can also strengthen the team's ability to effectively avoid risks, and greatly guarantee the safety of the players.

6. Conclusion

All in all, the construction and management of the 110 and 119 teams on campus cannot be separated from the responsible teachers and the backbone role of the backbone members; the silent contribution of the team members; the perfect and sound system and the entire Team coordination.
