Abstract

At present, the special struggle to eradicate gangsters and evils is being carried out across the country. The Party Central Committee with Comrade Xi Jinping at its core is making major decisions and deployments based on the situation and foresight at an important node in the comprehensive decisive battle for a well-off society and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, which is related to society. The stability of the overall situation and the long-term stability of the country are related to the support of the people and the consolidation of the grassroots political power, and it is related to whether the "Four Greats" can be carried out smoothly. As a Marxist researcher in colleges and universities and a practitioner of ideological and political work, we should look at the overall situation, both inside and outside, and from the perspective of reality and theory, to understand and grasp the background of the times when the central government launched the special campaign to eliminate crime; To explore and excavate the value connotation of the central government's special struggle against crime; To deeply understand the decision intention of the Central Committee to carry out the special struggle against crime and evil, and ultimately enable us to better strengthen the "two safeguards" and to forge a new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics, so as to continue to struggle for the realization of the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.

Anti crime; Realistic logic; Theoretical logic.

1. Introduction

Carrying out the three-year special campaign to eradicate crime is a major decision and deployment made by the Central Committee recently. It is related to the long-term stability of the country, the Party spirit and the people, the cause of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and the smooth realization of the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. As a Marxist researcher in colleges and universities and a practitioner of ideological and political work, we should look at the overall situation, both inside and outside, and from the perspective of reality and theory, to understand and grasp the background of the times when the central government launched the special campaign to eliminate crime; To explore and excavate the value connotation of the central government's special struggle against crime; To deeply understand the decision intention of the Central Committee to carry out the special struggle against crime and evil, so that we can better strengthen the "two safeguards" and forge a new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and continue to strive to realize the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.

2. The Central Committee Made the Decision and Deployment of A Three-year Special Fight Against Crime

The eradication of criminal syndicates should be combined with the fight against corruption, and with the grassroots "beating ropes". We should not only focus on organizations involved in criminal syndicates, but also on the "umbrella" behind them. Strengthening the construction of grass-roots organizations is a fundamental policy and a key move to eradicate the breeding ground of evil forces. We must firmly consolidate this foundation.

On January 23, 2018, the Central Political and Legal Commission held a teleconference on the national anti mafia campaign; In the same month, the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China and the State Council issued the Notice on Carrying out the Special Fight against Mafia. All regions and departments should further improve their political standing, effectively strengthen the "four senses", fully understand the significance of carrying out the special fight against organized crime, effectively integrate their thoughts and actions into the deployment of the Party Central Committee, scientifically plan, carefully organize, and carefully implement, and resolutely win the crucial battle of the special fight against organized crime.

At this point, the national special campaign against crime officially kicked off.

The special fight against organized crime lasts for three years and is divided into three stages to achieve the goals of one year's temporary cure, two years' root cause cure and three years' root cause cure.

The main tasks of the first stage: in 2018, a new climax of the special campaign against crime will be set off, the overall effectiveness of the special campaign against crime will be significantly improved, and the outstanding problems of crime will be effectively curbed, forming a strong atmosphere of anti crime;

The main tasks of the second stage: In 2019, we will focus on tackling key cases, key problems and key areas that have not yet been solved, dig deeply into the detected cases along the line and see the bottom one by one, thoroughly eradicate the soil on which the mafia forces grow, and significantly improve the people's sense of security and satisfaction;

The main task of the third stage: By 2020, establish and improve a long-term mechanism to curb the growth and spread of the underworld forces, and achieve an overwhelming victory in the special fight against underworld.

The Central Committee has made the decision and deployment of a three-year special campaign to eradicate crime, echoing the reality, the mission and the times. It has a far-reaching vision and is of great significance.

3. Realistic Logic, The Superposition of Internal and External Factors Highlights the Necessity and Urgency of Eliminating Crime

3.1. The strategic turn, the western hostile forces led by the United States comprehensively suppressed and contained China by all means, and the external environment for China's peaceful development was deteriorating day by day.

Because of the strategic misjudgment of the United States on China's development speed and capability and the sudden occurrence of the 911 incident, the United States has lost the best window period for its strategic containment of China subjectively and objectively.

The US government's strategic misjudgment of China's development speed and capacity lags behind the start time of the US's comprehensive strategic suppression of China, leaving a relatively ample window for China's peaceful and stable development. From the late 1990s to the early 2000s, Brzezinski, a former national security adviser and famous geostrategic theorist of the United States, pointed out in the book "The Big Chess Board" published in 1997 that "in general, even by 2020, even under the best conditions, China is unlikely to be truly competitive in the main aspects of a global power." According to the global trend report released by the National Intelligence Commission of the United States in 2004, It is predicted that China may become the second largest economy in the world by 2020. In fact, it took only six years for China to overtake Japan and become the world's second largest economy - a full decade ahead of the prediction of the National Intelligence Commission of the United States. But in 2011, Brzezinski corrected his misjudgment in his new book Strategic Vision - The United States and the Global Power Crisis: "With the development of China's economic and political strength, China will challenge the global leadership of the United States in the future. Considering China's recent performance and historical achievements, the idea that China's economy will suddenly stop is hasty." Since the reform and opening up, under the leadership of the Party Central Committee, China takes economic construction as the center, works hard and devotes itself to development; We adopted the foreign policy of "keeping a low profile", abandoned the principle of drawing a line with ideology and social system, and won a relatively loose international environment for ourselves with a pragmatic diplomatic concept and an overall open attitude.

The sudden 911 incident upset the rhythm of the US government's containment of China, forcing its strategic focus to comprehensively turn to global anti-terrorism, and its policy towards China to turn from confrontation to cooperation. In the field of anti-terrorism, the United States urgently needs China's support and cooperation, which makes the United States have to give up confrontation and adopt a cooperative attitude on some issues. In the fight against terrorism, China and the United States share common interests and goals; In the economic field, the United States also urgently needs to eliminate the impact of economic recession caused by terrorism. As an important new engine of world economic development, China can work together with the United States to complement each other's advantages and play the role of "ballast" and "stabilizer". Strengthening economic cooperation with China is the best option for the United States to curb recession and boost the economy. The September 11 incident prompted the United States to make major adjustments to its China policy. From "strategic opponents" to "stakeholders" to "building a cooperative partnership of mutual respect, mutual benefit and win-win results", the three stages of adjustment coincided with the first decade of the 21st century. This decade has witnessed steady progress in China US relations, remarkable achievements in China's multilateral cooperation, rapid development of China's economy, and a decade in which the United States and the Communist Party, the United States and the United States, and win-win cooperation have replaced confrontation as the mainstream.

After 30 years of sustained, high-speed, healthy and stable development of reform and opening up, China has grown into the world's second largest economy and the world's first industrial manufacturing country. Its comprehensive national strength has begun to show itself. "China's speed" has amazed the world, and "China's miracle" has been constantly performed. In the eyes of hegemonists and unilateralists, the identity of the second largest economy, the "the Belt and Road" initiative, and the idea of building a "community with a shared future for mankind" all challenge the values and international order with the United States as the core, and touch the core interests of the United States. The socialist road with Chinese characteristics has become an authoritarian system in the eyes of the West; The socialist market economy with Chinese characteristics is regarded as "state capitalism" and the greatest threat to the free market economy; The "the Belt and Road" initiative and the idea of building a community with a shared future for mankind are considered to be the expansion of Chinese imperialism. As an important country in the world and a developing country with the largest population, China's peaceful and stable development and poverty reduction miracle are the well-being of all mankind; However, these great achievements and great country responsibilities that should have won wide respect and applause are regarded as "eyenails and thorns in the flesh" by hegemonists and unilateralists. When the United States gradually emerged from the quagmire of anti-terrorism, it found that the world is no longer the same as it used to be. Hegemonism and unilateralism have become incompatible with the theme of win-win cooperation in the world. China's multilateralism and the diplomatic concept of comprehensive opening and cooperation, with the help of comprehensive national strength, have become the source of nourishing global governance, making China's influence increasingly prominent, This has obviously shaken the foundation of the United States' absolute voice in the global governance system. In this regard, the relatively moderate Obama administration has formulated the plan of returning to the Pacific, which represents that the strategic focus of the United States has begun to shift, and its pertinence is self-evident; After the tough Trump government came to power, they were on pins and needles in the face of an increasingly powerful China; At last, they did not hesitate to crack the skin, and began to crack down on China crazily by means of trade wars and various sanctions in the name of "unnecessary". In order to restore the absolute dominance of the United States in the global governance system, the Trump government ignored international norms and moral principles, overdrawed national credit, and reversed itself, openly confronting China, worsening the global governance environment. The concept of win-win development has become fragile in the face of hegemonists. Realism is rampant. Comprehensive confrontation has replaced practical cooperation. China no longer has an external environment for peaceful and stable development.

3.2. We will create a more secure, stable and harmonious internal development environment, fully tap the internal development potential, and eliminate the impact of the deterioration of the external environment through the eradication of crime.

China is in a period of transition to a market economy and a modern society, which is also a period of great adjustment of the pattern of group interests and a necessary stage for social and economic development. As long as the interests involved are adjusted, all kinds of problems and contradictions will inevitably erupt, which will often give the mafia an opportunity to take advantage of. They used social contradictions to incite the masses who did not know the truth to attack the government and shake the regime; Connect with corrupt officials, break laws and commit crimes, and seek improper profits. Their actions have greatly damaged public power and the credibility of the government. They wantonly seized the interests of the country and the people by illegal means, thus depriving the people of their sense of security and gain, fundamentally shaking the socialist system, destroying the situation of stability and unity, hindering the normal production and life of society, and deteriorating the internal development environment.

At this stage, the objective situation at home and abroad urgently requires us to further tap the potential of internal development, create a fair, just, harmonious and stable business environment in an all-round way, and enhance our ability to resist external risks with a healthy "internal circulation". Although China's social security has been generally safe and stable for a long time, we need to see that the long-term rapid economic development has covered up some contradictions; These contradictions will be exposed in the process of economic slowdown, sluggish transformation of new and old drivers of development and continuous deterioration of the external environment. These problems are often magnified and used by the mafia forces, causing turbulence and irreversible losses to the country. We must increase the supply side reform in the field of social security and provide a safer, more just and more harmonious production and living environment to meet people's aspirations for a better life. Through the special fight against crime, we can combine the fight against crime with the fight against corruption, so as to clean the body, clean the door, and achieve the goal of practicing hard internal skills and laying a solid foundation. Only in this way can we cope with the changes of various external environments more calmly.

4. Theoretical Logic, Anti Crime and Eliminating Evil Escort The Realization of The Great Rejuvenation of The Chinese Nation

The essence of a better life is to enhance people's sense of gain, happiness and security. The purpose of the CPC is to serve the people wholeheartedly and lead the people of all ethnic groups to realize the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation faster and better, which is the current historical mission of the CPC.

4.1. To carry out the special fight against crime can further consolidate the foundation for the people to live and work in peace and contentment, and build a harmonious and unified social order to the greatest extent.

Marx pointed out that "rules and order itself are essential elements for any mode of production that acquires social fixity and social independence without mere contingency and arbitrariness." All kinds of underworld forces are malignant tumors that affect social development, progress, harmony and order, seriously endanger the people's personal rights, property rights and personality rights, seriously erode and damage the fundamental interests of the overwhelming majority of the people, and hinder the realization of the people's sense of gain, happiness and security. According to Maslow's hierarchy of needs theory, the classic value theory of western society, security is the basic need of human beings, and realizing self value is the highest demand. The highest ideal of Marxism is to realize the freedom and liberation of all mankind. No matter the theoretical viewpoints of capitalism or communism, the realization of the highest value of human beings as defined by them all needs a basic premise - human possession of security. The CPC is a supporter of Marxism. As a Marxist party, it has a natural rejection of all kinds of ugly phenomena that undermine human freedom and liberation. Only by fundamentally removing all the soil that destroys the order, such as the underworld forces, can we build a good social ecology that strives for the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.

4.2. To carry out the special fight against crime is a reflection of the further improvement of the national governance system and an inevitable requirement for the modernization of the national governance capacity.

No benefit is greater than cure, and no harm is greater than disorder. It is an important way to modernize the country's governance ability to carry out the special fight against mafia and evil. In the period of social transformation, various contradictions and problems are intertwined, so we need to grasp the important entry point to solve the problems and contradictions, so that we can carry out point to area, and achieve individual breakthroughs. Only by addressing specific outstanding issues can we comprehensively promote the further improvement of the national governance system and lay a solid foundation for the modernization of national governance. The mafia forces are rampant in some regions and industries, and a series of people's strong reactions, such as the "umbrella" playing the role of the devil, have seriously affected the socialist fairness and justice. Whether the outstanding problems can be fundamentally contained and solved as soon as possible is an important manifestation of the ruling ability of our party in the new period, and an important step in the modernization of national governance. Only when we quickly cut through the mess on key issues, use severe punishment to cure the disease, and establish a long-term prevention and control mechanism, can we achieve a key breakthrough in national governance, win the support and trust of the broad masses of the people, and win the great victory of socialist construction in an all-round way.

4.3. Carrying out the special fight against crime is a necessary condition for the realization of the "four comprehensives" and the smooth progress of the "four great".

No rules, no square. To carry out the special fight against crime is an inevitable requirement for comprehensively administering the country according to law; It is an important guarantee for building a moderately prosperous society in an all-round way and deepening reform in an all-round way; It is the concrete embodiment of comprehensively and strictly governing the Party; It is an important link in the fight against corruption. If we do not root out the evil forces, we cannot stop the corruption of the ruling body, prevent the occurrence of ugly phenomena, and show the superiority of the socialist system in an all-round way. The special fight against crime is an important starting point to achieve the credibility of the Party and the government. Only by comprehensively purifying the social environment can we bring about the cohesion of the people and the combat effectiveness of party members and cadres; Only by creating a harmonious, orderly, stable and united atmosphere can the people of all ethnic groups in the country work together with one heart and one mind to carry out great struggles, build great projects, promote great undertakings and realize great dreams.

4.4. To carry out the special struggle against crime is an important guarantee for the security of state power and an urgent requirement for the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.

Like water without a source and the end of a foundation, without the ruling foundation of the Party, the security of state power cannot be guaranteed, the people's democratic dictatorship cannot be realized, and the fundamental interests of the people cannot be guaranteed. In order to realize the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, we must thoroughly eliminate all the ugly phenomena that hinder the progress, development, harmony and stability of social civilization, and the evil forces are the most typical representatives of these ugly phenomena. Carrying out the special fight against crime is an important entry point to ensure the security of the state power, a key measure to promote the comprehensive strict governance of the Party, an important link to purify the political ecology, an inevitable option to consolidate the foundation of governance, and an urgent requirement and required action to achieve the national dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation faster and better.

Realizing the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation is a long-term and arduous process, which requires a variety of positive factors to resonate with each other at the same frequency, and a stable, united, harmonious and orderly atmosphere for entrepreneurship. This kind of atmosphere does not exist naturally. We must give play to our subjective initiative and create it by solving various contradictions and difficulties. And anti crime is a must for us to pursue our dreams, and we have no right to make mistakes. Having said goodbye to suffering and humiliation, the Chinese people, nourished by the continuous Chinese civilization, have never been intimidated or defeated. "The general trend of the world is overwhelming. Those who follow the trend will prosper and those who go against it will perish." The wheel of history will eventually crush those who go against it. Always regard the realization of human freedom and liberation as the highest ideal, consciously use the Marxist position, viewpoint and the Party's purpose and concept to penetrate and understand the principles and policies of the central government; We should be more committed to the "two safeguards" and the new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and contribute to the early realization of the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation.
