Abstract

Labor education in colleges and universities in the new era has extremely profound background and value implication. At the same time, the construction of related mechanisms is also imminent. Labor education is an important part of moral education in colleges and universities. How to integrate with ideological and political education and make labor education take root is the key point to be explored urgently at present. Integrating labor education into the process of ideological and political education can promote the all-round development of college students' morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor, which is the general trend of the current times. To carry out labor education in ideological and political education, students should actively participate in practice, form labor skills, love and work hard, establish correct labor values and enhance students' sense of social responsibility.

Keywords

Labor education; Ideological and political education; Joint education.

1. Introduction

At present, the society has higher requirements for university talent training. In addition to the study of professional and technical knowledge, comprehensive qualities such as practical ability have become the overall goal of university education. Colleges and universities should firmly grasp the main line of labor education, create a new mechanism of labor education, integrate relevant resources, carry out five education simultaneously, cooperate in education, build a two-level mechanism of colleges and universities, and make ideological and political education live through labor education.

2. The Necessity of Integrating Labor Education and Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities in the New Era

(1) Strengthening labor education is conducive to the all-round development of students

Today, with the promotion of the spirit of prospering the country through hard work and artisans, the values of labor and the view of practice are becoming more and more important. It is the future of the youth motherland and should shoulder the responsibility of building a strong country. College students are young, energetic, thoughtful and innovative. In the process of cultivating college students, colleges and universities need not only the cultivation of professional knowledge, but also the cultivation of college students' labor feelings and the cultivation of a labor system that conforms to the socialist core values. In the process of implementation of labor education, through labor, students can understand that today's life is hard-won, cultivate students' hard-working, positive, hard-working character, and finally cultivate the new generation with all-round development of morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor.

(2) Ideological and political education in Colleges and universities should highlight the guidance of practical education

In addition to theoretical training, ideological and political courses and daily ideological and political education in colleges and universities should adhere to the unity of practice and theory. Ideological and political courses in colleges and universities should be targeted, can reflect the current social situation, and can not be divorced from social reality. We should strengthen practical skills education, labor training, labor ideological and political education, and enhance the practical innovation ability of college students. Ideological and political education in colleges and universities should make students understand that improving their personal ability through hard work and down-to-earth hard work are the important ways to realize their personal dreams, grow up and contribute to the country in the future. At the same time, labor education can help college students overcome laziness, say goodbye to "lying flat", guide students to develop excellent work habits through practice, and increase their talents in practice.

(3) The integration of labor education and ideological and political education is an effective way to build morality and cultivate people in Colleges and universities

The focus of labor education is to help students establish correct labor values and become talents with all-round development of morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor. The focus of ideological and political education lies in educating people, through which students can establish good moral character. The ideological and political education in colleges and universities is to educate people by virtue, that is, to give corresponding guidance in the process of students' growth and success, so that students can realize their personal values and grow into new socialist youths that meet the needs of society and the development of the times. Labor education and moral education are equally important, and ideological and political education should help students understand the importance of labor and develop the character of loving labor.

3. The Integration of Labor Education and Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities in the New Era

(1) In the process of Ideological and political education, the essence of labor curriculum is less, and the problem of formalization is prominent

At present, colleges and universities do not pay enough attention to labor courses. Only a few colleges and universities have set up labor-related courses, and there is no unified and clear labor curriculum system. In the traditional ideological and political classroom, some teachers only impart the knowledge in textbooks, and it is difficult for students, as passive recipients, to get the essence of classroom content, especially in the part of labor education, and it is difficult for students to understand it simply according to the knowledge in textbooks. The function of educating people through labor is hard to be excavated, and the leaders of relevant ideological and political education courses often use work-study programs. Volunteers, etc. instead of specialized courses of labor education, there is no way for labor education to really integrate into ideological and political education, and the formalization problem is more serious.

(2) The incentive mechanism of labor education is not clear

At present, too much labor education stays in the disciplinary aspect, without paying attention to the incentive mechanism of labor. In the process of ideological and political education, labor education should be evaluated from both teachers and students. From the student's point of view, we should consider whether we have a correct understanding of the nature and connotation of labor, make clear the significance of labor, have positive labor feelings and will, and have good labor habits. From the perspective of teachers, it should be clear whether there is a complete labor education curriculum system, whether the labor education outline is complete, and whether the education content is comprehensive.

(3) Labor education is not taken seriously in the process of ideological and political education. The assessment of labor education in colleges and universities is not included in the teaching assessment, and students will not face the pressure of failing grades. Influenced by employment, the assessment standard of students' achievements is mainly professional quality, and most students' labor education is more social practice, but not enough attention is paid to ideological and political aspects. It is a key stage for college students to grow into talents. At present, it is difficult for colleges and universities to integrate the efforts of families and society, and labor education lacks a sense of atmosphere. Considering the characteristics of students after 00, most of them have no clear understanding of labor and weak ability to participate in labor.

4. Construction of Educational Mechanism for the Integration of Labor Education and Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities in the New Era

(1) Formulate labor education related systems and issue related documents

In order to integrate labor education and ideological and political education organically, top-level design is the most important thing. Colleges and universities should pay attention to the reform of the curriculum system of labor education, and make efforts in the aspects of financial support, system establishment, resource integration and organization arrangement. We should establish a labor education progress table in Colleges and universities, set up labor education credits, ensure the orderly development of relevant education, and make the integrated development of Ideological and political education and labor education based and orderly. Formulate the road map of labor education, integrate the five education into it, build an integrated ideological and political education system, take assessment as the means, incentive as the guidance and supervision as the guarantee, and mobilize the enthusiasm of relevant personnel.

(2) Increase the proportion of labor education in ideological and political courses

Integrating labor education into ideological and political education theory classroom, explaining the connotation of labor with Marxist principles, and clarifying the value created by labor. Integrating labor education into ideological and political education practice class, exploring new ideas of curriculum design such as social practice and public welfare work, and making labor education elements appear in ideological and political class, so that students can understand that social reform and development can not be separated from labor education. Relevant course groups shall prepare labor education syllabus and use the teaching style to influence the study style in the process of injecting labor education into the classroom. Enrich teaching means and methods, and use immersion teaching to carry out labor education and teaching, but students establish a correct concept of labor from the level of knowledge and emotion.

(3) Integrate labor education into professional curriculum ideology and politics

Incorporate labor education into the education of specialized courses, tap the labor attribute of specialized knowledge and expand it, break the information island between disciplines, and integrate labor career development, innovation and entrepreneurship, labor laws and regulations into the education and teaching of specialized courses. In the field of natural science, we should organically integrate machinery and construction with labor education, and in the field of social science, we should organically integrate economic management and labor. We should tap the potential teaching resources, integrate them, connect the professional course objectives with labor education, and guide students imperceptibly. Teachers should inspire students to explore issues related to labor education, give full play to students' subjective initiative, and cultivate students' ability to think independently and solve problems.

(4) Strengthen the faculty of labor education in ideological and political education

Set up a labor education team from teachers and counselors engaged in ideological and political education, and cultivate a group of labor teachers who are willing to contribute, have a feeling of struggle and care for students. At the same time, we should set up advanced models of teachers' labor education, look for representatives who carry forward the spirit of labor, set an example and play an exemplary role. In addition, an evaluation system of students' teaching to teachers should be established to give timely feedback on the teaching situation, so that teachers can improve relevant contents at any time through effective feedback mechanism. Strengthen the training of teachers, enhance the theoretical training of Ideological and political education and labor education, and submit teaching literacy and teaching ability. Carry out relevant competitions, teaching observation and special lectures to improve the professional level of teachers. Teachers should also be student-oriented, enhance their own skills, use the list to demonstrate and influence students, strengthen communication with students, and adopt personalized education methods according to different students.

(5) New ways to carry out network labor education

Using the new media technology of the Internet, we will broaden the platform of labor education, set up a window of labor education on the ideological and political platform of the school network, and broadcast relevant publicity videos to broaden the spread of labor education. Establish electronic resource database of labor education, build teaching plan database, and provide support for related education and teaching. The Internet should also be used to establish a labor education feedback evaluation mechanism, systematically record the previous labor education summary, and provide experience for the next labor education. Teachers and students can also communicate through online platforms. Carry out network ideological and political labor education, and carry out online lectures on labor education.

(6) Increase the proportion of labor education in students' Ideological and Political Education

In the student work, guidance should integrate the spirit of model workers, labor spirit and craftsman spirit into the education of students. Highlight the elements of labor education in party class and group class, conduct face-to-face lectures between Lao and me, invite labor leaders from various industries to talk face-to-face with students, and infect students with excellent deeds. In terms of employment and entrepreneurship, college students should be encouraged to stand up, go out, give full play to their own expertise and realize their own value in combination with social reality. Students should also be led to carry out practical training and internships, combined with the students' majors, to cultivate students' pursuit of perfection and the spirit of conscientious and dedicated craftsman. Integrate labor education with daily student theme education, and carry out a series of theme education activities such as paying tribute to model workers to help students establish correct labor values.

5. Conclusions

To strengthen the work of labor education in colleges and universities, we should not only strengthen explicit labor education and impart labor science knowledge closely related to college students' employment and career development, but also deepen implicit labor education, explore labor education resources in professional education, ideological and political education and various extracurricular activities, and systematically construct diversified labor education and ideological and political education system. At the same time, it is also conducive to make colleges and universities pay attention to the organic integration of moral education and labor education, and cultivate builders and successors with all-round development for the society. Ideological and political education in Colleges and universities directly affects students' comprehensive quality and practical behavior. In the process of labor education, we should adhere to "student-oriented" to cultivate students' labor skills, encourage students to participate in social practice, harvest happiness in labor, and cultivate new socialist youth with all-round development of morality, intelligence, physique, beauty and labor for the society.
