Abstract

The fifth Plenary Session of the 19th CPC Central Committee not only clarified the important principles that the economic and social development must follow during the 14th Five-year period, but also took the overall leadership of the CPC as the primary principle to ensure the effective implementation of the decisions and arrangements of the CPC Central Committee. This is a basic principle that must be followed for economic and social development. It is the fundamental political guarantee for realizing the goals set in the 14th Five-Year Plan and in the long-term in 2035. For a country as big as China, only the CPC has the prestige and ability to lead it. This is the institutional code for "Governance of China". Therefore, only by adhering to the leadership of the Communist Party of China can the building of Chinese characteristic socialism stand firm.

1. Introduction

The Party, the government, the military and the people, east, west, north and south, the Party leads everything. The fifth Plenary Session of the 19th CPC Central Committee attaches great importance to improving the party's leading system and emphasizes the leading position of the party's leading system. At the same time, it further emphasizes the leadership loyal to the whole Party and further promotes the overall leadership of the Party, making "The governance of China" a new topic with important theoretical and practical significance.

2. Adhere to the Overall Leadership of the Party Is the Governance of China Anchored

The birth of the Communist Manifesto marked that the first Marxist political party, the Communist Alliance, had its own code of conduct. Socialism has also been transformed from a beautiful imagination of the people into a scientific revolutionary movement. From then on, the Communist Party of China led the people to a new road of socialist revolution. Our centenary journey has endured great hardships. The Communist Party of China has inspired our people to work hard on the road to building socialism with Chinese characteristics, to boldly overcome difficulties, to stand firm in severe tests, and to forge ahead in great struggles. In China, only with the Communist Party of China can we call it the real China, which is a great blessing for the Chinese people and nation. As General Secretary Xi Jinping has said, "History is the root of reality. The present of any country comes from yesterday. Only by understanding where a country has come from can we understand why it is what it is today, and where it is going and where it is not going in the future." [1] Recalling the history, exploration and practice of the Communist Party of China in the past century, our Party has always stood at the forefront of the new-democratic revolution, socialist construction, reform and opening up, and the new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics. As the pioneer and backbone of the Great Revolution of the Chinese nation, the COMMUNIST Party of China plays a pivotal role. The CPC has also been searching for a suitable system and way of governance for the better life of the Chinese people of all ethnic groups and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. The road to explore socialism is arduous. The CPC has gone through a century of trials and tribulations, and we have all fulfilled our arduous historical mission under the overall leadership of the CPC. Just as General Secretary Xi Jinping said in his speech marking the 40th anniversary of China's reform and opening-up: "It is always adhere to the centralized and unified leadership of the party, we can realize the great historical turning point, open in the new period of reform and opening-up and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation a new journey, to successfully cope with the challenge of a series of significant risk, to overcome numerous difficulties and obstacles, to strong strain bureau, storm, flood, preventing SARS, earthquake resistance, the crisis, Only in this way can we stay firmly committed to the path of socialism with Chinese characteristics," he said. [2] Although the road ahead in China's development is full of twists and turns, the Communist Party of China, with its strong will and outstanding wisdom and with the support of the Chinese people, has overcome difficulties and obstacles one after another, and has made the leap from one era to the next, from a new starting point to a new era. We will continue to lead the people in striving and forging ahead bravely on the road to realizing the great Chinese dream of socialism with Chinese characteristics.

3. Adhere to the Overall Leadership of the Party Is the Rule of China Customs Code

Governing a country is like a chess game, and the party Central Committee is like a leading general. It acts as the brain of the whole game, leading the changes of the chess game. And to want a country's development and governance to achieve rapid development, play this chess game, just at the right time, it is very necessary. In the early days of the establishment of the Party, we did not have the guidance of the mature Central Committee of the Party, the cause of the Party repeatedly frustrated, even to the "end of the road" situation. In the decision of life and death of The Zunyi parliament, our party consolidated the leadership of comrade MAO Zedong, the Chinese Communist Party began to form a strong leadership core. Even when major mistakes were made in the practice of exploring socialist construction, the ideological foundation centered on the CPC never wavered. After the 19th CPC National Congress, the party's overall leadership system has taken shape in various institutions and units and has been gradually improved. The fifth Plenary Session of the 19th CPC Central Committee summarized the institutional rules and business units of the party's leadership system from six aspects. Some scholars believe that these six system units are prerequisites, core requirements, leadership scope, leadership foundation, leadership skills and self-image. [3] Some scholars regard the functional positioning of these six institutions as the core of value, ideological basis, highest principle, effective support, core goal, fundamental purpose, fundamental method, fundamental concentration and fundamental guarantee. [4]

As the ruling party of a major country in the world, where does its confidence in governance come from? As the Party leading the Chinese people, where does our confidence in leadership come from? In the past 70 years, the CPC has led the people in creating a miracle of rapid economic development and long-term social stability, which is rarely seen in the world, and the Chinese nation has achieved a tremendous leap forward. To create the "two miracles" and realize the "great leap" is the confidence of our pride and faith in the rule and leadership of the CPC. Socialism is the history of the Chinese road inevitably choice, as long as we persist in and improve the system of socialism with Chinese characteristics, the ability to constantly improve national governance system, unswervingly adhere to the overall leadership of the party, just as it is anchored, once you have the password, we will be able to open the socialism modernization new journey, Blaze a socialist road that truly belongs to the Chinese people.

4. Adhere to the Overall Leadership of the Party's Rule of China's Emergency Medicine

The leadership of the CPC has always been concrete, not abstract. This includes all aspects and links of the national governance system. Only by comprehensively and systematically implementing Party leadership can we establish and improve an institutional system for party leadership in all aspects of our work, form a leadership system that understands the overall situation of the Party, adjusts it, and strictly enforce institutional constraints on the Party, so that the Party's propositions and the will of the people are effectively implemented, and the Party's theories, line, principles, and policies are fully implemented. This is the first aid prescription for the effective implementation of socialism with Chinese characteristics.

We must fully understand the characteristics of China's governance and national governance system, uphold the central role of the CPC in the national governance system, and strengthen the overall leadership of the CPC. After the founding of New China, in order to overthrow imperialism, feudalism and bureaucrat-capitalism, the theory of modern Chinese state governance system based on Marxist state theory and the Party was gradually established under the leadership of the Communist Party of China. The most prominent feature is the overall leadership of the Communist Party of China. Since the founding of new China, the National government has always been under the leadership of the CPC, and the Central position and role of the CPC have been safeguarded and strengthened. In particular, as socialism with Chinese characteristics enters a new era, we will strive to uphold and strengthen the overall leadership of the Party, uphold the authority of the CPC Central Committee, and strengthen the centralized, unified leadership of the CPC Central Committee. As general secretary xi said: "if there is no authority of the CPC Central Committee, the party's theory and route policies can not perform, fragmented, chart, want to do, don't think don't do anything, the party will become fragmented, and will be coming into its own" private club ", the leadership of the party will become meaningless." At the same time, our Party has always been people-centered, followed the mass line, served the people wholeheartedly, and has always had blood ties with the people. As the core of the national leadership of the communist party of China, not only can be incorporated into the masses and social organization system of the leadership of the party, the people's demands can be controlled by the provincial government will into the state's system of governance, to promote the party's leadership system and modernization construction, strengthen the organic integration between the country's governance system and coordinated interaction. Upholding overall Party leadership is the fundamental guarantee for socialism with Chinese characteristics and a solid foundation for national governance. Upholding and improving the system of socialism with Chinese characteristics and modernizing China's governance system and governance capacity can enhance the Party's executive power and better transform the dominant position of the system of socialism with Chinese characteristics into effective governance of the country. Therefore, under the unified leadership of the CPC Central Committee, we need to promote the institutionalization and modernization of China's governance system. We need to make scientific planning, elaborate organization, overall planning, and coordinated efforts to ensure that the goals and tasks of all organizations are implemented. At the same time, we must strengthen our awareness of the system, take the lead in safeguarding the authority of the system, set a good example for the implementation of the system, lead the Party and society to consciously and strictly implement the system, and maintain the determination to resolutely implement the system. On the one hand, we need to strengthen institutional awareness, deeply understand the necessity and importance of establishing and implementing systems, improving governance systems, and strengthening governance capacity. By strengthening the top-level design and overall planning of the institutional system, it will help overcome misconceptions and implementation obstacles that may be encountered in deepening comprehensive reform, coordinate reforms in various fields, improve institutions and mechanisms, promote institutional reform, and lay a foundation for deepening and comprehensive reform in the new situation. On the other hand, we will advance the building of socialism with Chinese characteristics, enhance the modernization of China's governance capacity, and comprehensively advance the establishment of a system for building the rule of law. The modernization of China's governance system and capacity further emphasizes the "institutional dimension" and "institutional awareness" of socialism with Chinese characteristics for a new era. The modernization of the national governance system gives full play to the effective role of all governance bodies, recognizes and commits to the normative return of governance bodies, and emphasizes positive interaction and orderly circulation. The modernization of national governance has created a new and most advanced governance system, and will also bring about a profound and profound revolution in the rule of law in national construction.

History and practice fully prove that whether adhering to the overall leadership of the CPC can effectively guarantee the long-term stability of the CPC's ruling status depends on the establishment of a complete and applicable governance system and executive ability. If the direction of institutional construction is not clear, the goal is not clear, the governance system is not clear, and the governance capacity is insufficient, it will directly affect or fundamentally shake the foundation and status of the ruling party, and then affect the people, the country and society, and affect the long-term peace and stability of the country. As Xi Jinping has said, "As the Party that has been in power for a long time in a big country with over 1.3 billion people, Party building is of great importance and affects the overall situation. Party building must be promoted to whatever stage the cause of the Party and the people has reached." [5] 43 If our Party wants to maintain lasting peace and stability, it must not be content with the status quo. We must continue to advance the socialist cause on the road of practice. Upholding the overall leadership of the Party is a basic prerequisite for continuing to improve the system of socialism with Chinese characteristics and modernize China's system and capacity for governance. Without the party's long-term governance, there would be no "rule of China". At the same time, we must constantly improve the socialist system and the system of state governance, which is the fundamental guarantee for consolidating and ensuring the Party's lasting peace and stability and provides a strong and solid foundation for the interests, happiness and stability of the people.

"The wild China has fallen to the brink; Boundless China, the mainstay of yi who?" Building and creating socialism with Chinese characteristics must be a long-term, complex and systematic project in which the whole Party works together to uphold and improve the system of socialism with Chinese characteristics, constantly improve China's system of governance, and modernize governance. This is an important and glorious mission that we must fulfill on the road to the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. One hundred years ago, a group of outstanding descendants of the Chinese nation, who took the world as their own responsibility, gathered together for the common belief and went through numerous adversity and glory, from weak to prosperity. At this moment, we are on the path of realizing the rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Therefore, we must assume our responsibilities, live up to the history and The Times, and use hard work and practice to illuminate an even brighter and brighter future.
