Abstract

With the development of the times, the education industry gradually deviates from normal orbit, and the learning content of young people has increased. Both are everything. The issuance of double mining policies has reduced the burden of adolescents. This paper mainly analyzes the four aspects of the foreign training institutions and national education from the background, double-reduction policies, and the adolescents. Aiming at the above statement, it can provide some feasible recommendations for the smooth implementation of the dual reduction policy to the development of education.

Keywords

Youth; Double Reduction Policy; Burden.

1. Introduction

China has already realized that education is the key to future social and national progress, but with the development of the national economy, the problems in my country have gradually appeared. The school-furnished operation and the school training institution have brought the stress of the youth unmarkable. Therefore, the state adopted the "Opinions on Further Reduce Students' Workload and School Training", the total number of jobs and the length of the operation and the burden of the adolescents of the compulsory education and the pro-school training are strictly defense " Phenomenon. The issuance of double reduction policies affects the development of adolescents, national education and the development of foreign training institutions.

2. Double Reduction Policy

The background promulgated by the double-reduction policy is a comprehensive implementation of the party's educational policy implementing the task of the Lord Tree people, relieves parents' anxiety, reducing the burden of the youth, and promoting the healthy development of the youth, my country promulgated a double reduction policy. The double reduction policy is mainly for primary school students and junior high school students, one is to reduce the burden of operation, and the other is to reduce the training of schools. "One of the most prominent problems of compulsory education is too heavy, and there is too little course in the class." "The development of the school training institution" "Demolitage", "Excessive Training Squeezing School is normal teaching time", etc. Adolescents grow and causing parents' anxiety to urge education industry chaos. In order to effectively improve these problems, cultivate the socialist successors of Decheng and Ideas, and the 19th meeting of the Central Committee of the Central Committee of the Reform Commission reviewed the "Opinions on Further Reduce Students' Workloads in Compulsory Education". , That is, we talk about the double reduction policy.

3. The Impact of the Double Reduction Policy

3.1. Adhere to the Students-oriented Policy Requirements for Students, and Earnestly Pay Attention to Adolescent Health Problems

The total amount of operations and time in an all-round pressure, reasonable adjustment of operational structure, courses and work difficulty must not exceed the national curriculum. Most of the school layout work is completed by the teacher, and a small part is completed by parents. The implementation of the double reduction policy not only improves the utilization of the operation, but also improves the students' prograde disease and improve the operation of the job. The "disappearance" of the disciplines of foreign training institutions, on the one hand, the teenagers have been more abundant, and physical exercise can be exercised and interested. On the other hand, it can better protect vision. Most of the "small dinner table" in the current prevalent, the hardware conditions are poor, the table and the blackboard are near, and the indoor lighting has a certain impact on the vision of adolescents. Time is abundant outdoor sports increased by adolescents. The issuance of double reduction policies reduced the burden of young people, improved the efficiency of young people, and improved the phenomenon of "caters in class".

3.2. Improve Teaching Level and Promote Educational Development

The issuance of national education and pro-school training institutions requires the education teaching quality and service level to further improve, more scientific and reasonable arrangements, schools must provide proceedings to meet students' requirements, and realize students' learning by campus. . To a certain extent, maintain the healthy development of the education industry to avoid chaos in the education industry. After the after-school service, the teacher's working hours were increased, but the teaching efficiency of national education education was improved. Promote the disappearance of the non-normal tutoring class, the teacher is better to return to the class, and it should be held. Improve the phenomenon of "reduction in the campus reduction and off-campus". In the double mining policy, the school training institution must not exceed the teaching content. Time must not occupy legal holidays, rest days, and summer vacation for discipline training. Prohibition of discipline training institutions finance, and capitalization operations. Time reduction makes the training institution's business declines, coupled with no investment agencies, most discipline training institutions will be destroyed, but also indicate that some people will unemployment. At the same time, non-discipline training institutions will also be more rigorous.

3.3. The Impact of the Double Reduction Policy on Parents

Parents' data showing that more than 50% parents have a positive attitude towards double reduction policies, and 30% of their parents hold their own attitude. First, in consideration of the implementation of its child under the implementation of the dual reduction policy will decrease, it can maintain a comprehensive development of physical and mental health, and parents must have supported attitude. Secondly, ordinary families have to eat after the training institutions itself, and the "disappearance" of the discipline training institution will decrease in life stress for most common families. Teaching return classroom, teaching method standardization, the provision of after-school services can make more parents to work, rather than picking up children to get rid of their own work, is also a kind of parent with low education levels without counseling children relief". And why still have a parent to oppose the two-decreasing policy? The transformation of the pressure in the pressure is transformed from the counseling operation, the selection class, and cannot work. Do not examine the real learning situation of students, students' learning attitudes and learning motivation will be significantly reduced. As a parent of the child's first teacher, I am worried that I can't guide the child, and I can't accompany the reason for the reason for the work and other reasons.

4. Recommendations for the Comprehensive Implementation of Double-reduction Policies

4.1. Strengthen the Training of Teachers and Improve the Level of Education

"Double-liter" to improve the quality of education and teaching quality schools can improve the teaching level of teachers through training, improve recruitment requirements, and strengthen the construction of teachers. Teachers can innovate teaching methods, strengthen the course process to enhance the teaching quality and teaching efficiency of the school. Through the rich class service content, expand the post-class service form to improve the post-class service effect, fully promote free online learning services, and eliminate parents unable to counselize their children. The school can introduce non-learning training, enhance the students' interest and "happiness".

4.2. Promulgate Relevant Policies

Increase the supervision of the relevant departments in accordance with the law, strictly supervise the school training institutions, and the academic training institutions secretly do school, kick off the students' gap, and increase parents. Strictly supervise the school teacher operation arrangement, whether it is effective for class service.

4.3. Interviews and Surveys to Observe the Public Sentiment

Effectively improve the double-reduction policy to visit or question parents schools and adolescents, and effectively observe the development trend of education industry, and correct double reduction policies at any time.

5. Conclusion

In order to reduce the purpose of reducing adolescents and parents' pressure and burdens, the double reduction policy has given a higher demand for school education, which requires national and schools to pay attention to teachers, comprehensive Improve the level of education. Through the unremitting efforts of the country, school, parents, fully and effective implementation of double reduction policy refers to the day.
